Thomas,

I have not called you names nor have I attacked your character in any way. In fact on this morning's live show I commented how I enjoy hearing things from a different perspective. It's your choice of course. But, it appears that you are engaging in judging me with absolutely no evidence whatsoever. You are still welcome to come on the show, if you wish.

Please be specific as to when and where I have said anything derogatory about you. Let me know,

David

David,

I accepted your invitation because I believed we would have a good faith conversation and debate on the issues that matter to the voters in my district. It has come to my attention that you have engaged in the typical name-calling and character attacks on me that almost every other political entity currently utilizes. It makes it obvious that we cannot have a productive conversation or interview. Therefore, I have decided to decline your invitation at this time.

I may reconsider in the future if you decide you'd like to have a genuine, good-faith conversation

Thomas,

Zoom is the easiest for me. I'll send you a formal link in a few minutes.

That sounds great, let's do it.

Do you do them online or in person?

Thanks David,

Thomas

Hi David,

I would love to be a guest on your podcast. I am typically available in the afternoons or Tuesday and Thursday mornings. What works best for you?

Thanks so much,

Thomas

Mr Lear,

My name is David Iverson and I own the Cowboy State Politics podcast. As you have filed to run in House District 12, I'd like to extend an invitation to come on my program and talk about your candidacy. When might you be available?

I'm currently interviewing several people running for office and I want to get you on my schedule soon. Please let me know what your schedule is and we'll get it set up

Thanks. I look forward to hearing from you.
